School Census Count Continues

Census takers are continuing the count of school-age children in the Canyon Independent School District.

The count, which must be completed by Jan. 31, is used by the state department of education in apportioning the available school fund to the various districts of the state. It is necessary that each school age child in the district be enumerated.

If any parent has not been contacted by the last part of the month, they are asked to call or write the school tax office.

Water District Election Tuesday

Two county committeemen and a district director for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 will be elected Tuesday by Randall County voters. Those eligible to vote are qualified voters who reside within the bounds of the district. Canyon is not in the district.

Candidates for county committeemen are Harold Bryan and Jackie Meeks for Precinct 3 and A. C. Evers and Ervin Podzemny for Precinct 4. Candidates for district director are G. A. Dietz of Route 2, Happy, and T. L. Sparkman Jr., Route 1, Hereford. The director will be elected from Armstrong, Deaf Smith, Potter and Randall Counties.

Polling places in Randall County are the Hollywood Service Station, Randall County Grain Company and the Umbarger school.

Chamber Banquet Tickets Ready

Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet on Feb. 6 are now available from any of the members of the board of directors or at the chamber office.

Guest speaker for the banquet will be Marshall Formby of Plainview, state highway commission chairman and an announced candidate for governor in 1960. Formby is credited with having influenced the huge program of highway construction in the Panhandle, as well as over the state.

Tickets are $2.50 per plate. The banquet will begin at 8 p. m. in the West Texas State College cafeteria.

Fire Officer Election Tonight

The annual election of officers for the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department is scheduled tonight in the fire station.

Present officers are Bill Sternenberg, fire chief, Roland Hicks, assistant chief, O. W. Parker, president, Louie Davis, vice president, and Jack Jennings, secretary.

New Grand Jury Sworn In Monday

The January term Randall County grand jury was sworn in Monday in 47th District Court with six Canyon residents included. H. M. Kinsey of Happy is foreman.

Others on the grand jury are Joe Frank, C. E. Thompson, Irene Hicks, Bill Davis, Mrs. Jack Jennings and T. G. Hull Jr., all of Canyon; Edward W. Wieck, Route 1, Canyon; Jack W. Beeman, Frank D. Arnold, Robert W. Hare, all of Amarillo; and R. E. Chambers of Umbarger.

JP Office Moved To Anderson Home

The office of Justice of the Peace Carl Anderson has been moved from the courthouse to his home at 1604 Seventh Avenue.

Anderson fell recently and broke his right hip and is confined to his bed while it mends. He plans to continue the business of his office from his home until he can move back to the courthouse.

The Perils of Cold Weather

Bob Lindsey checks a new-born calf on the Lindsey Ranch west of Canyon during the cold weather last weekend. Stockmen figured cattle were in good shape during the snow and cold, although there was some danger to new calves. The snow cover ranged from two to four inches, and the temperature went as low as 11 degrees below zero. Wind was light during the extreme cold.

Utility Meter Study Shows Canyon Population Growing Right Steadily

Canyon's population continues to grow, according to the number of utility meters in the city. The population stands somewhere between 5106 and 5957, according to the formula used.

The city had 1337 water meters at the end of 1957 and 1471 at the end of 1958. Southwestern Public Service had 1534 customers at the end of 1957 and 1643 at the end of 1958. Pioneer Natural Gas company had 1529 customers in Canyon at the end of 1957 and 1528 at the end of 1958.

Population formulas figure the average of the utility meters and multiply by a figure ranging from 3.3 per average meter to 3.85. The 3.3 formula was one used for years by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. A 3.5 formula is the one recommended by the United States Chamber of Commerce. The 3.85 formula is one used by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Using the 3.3 formula, the population would be 5106. Using the 3.5 formula it would be 5416 and using the 3.85 it would be 5957. As a comparison, using the three formulas for the end of 1957, the population figures would be 4939, 5133 and 5646 respectively.

The three formulas do not take into account the resident student population at West Texas State. The U. S. census, which will be taken in 1960, will include resident students in the Canyon population figures. The 1950 census, which included the students, was 4364.

The resident student population is about 1600. There are about 2100 students regularly attending WT, and about 500 commute from other towns. Adding the students to the population estimates by utility meters would bring the population of Canyon up to around 7,000.

Meter figures for the past three years include:

Water meters, 1956-1310; 1957-1337; 1958-1471.

Southwestern Public Service, 1956-1456; 1957-1534; 1958-1643.

Pioneer Natural Gas, 1956-1399; 1957-1529; 1958-1528.

Babe Ruth Meeting Scheduled Tuesday

A meeting of the Babe Ruth League will be held at 7:30 p. m. next Tuesday in the Fieldhouse of West Texas State College. The session will be open to fathers of players or prospective players.

Plans for a new field and for night games to be played under lights will be discussed.

Highway Letting Set in February

If condemnation proceedings on two pieces of property are completed Friday, the contract for construction of the new Highway 60 west to the Deaf Smith County line will be let in February.

Pete Steiner, right of way agent for the highway department, told the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday that all the rest of the right of way is ready, and that the deadline for proceedings against Alvin Hacker and John Plank is Friday afternoon. He said that if the deadline is not met, it might be impossible for construction to be started this year.

District Attorney A. W. Lair said the two suits have been set for Friday.

Bob McKay, Roy Hunter Jr. and Arthur Lee Pruitt were home from Sul Ross College at Alpine for the holidays.

Buffs Open Border Conference Campaign Saturday in Fieldhouse

West Texas State's winless Buffaloes open their Border Conference basketball season Saturday night in Buffalo Fieldhouse against University of Arizona. The varsity game follows a 6 p. m. preliminary matching the Buff freshmen and Wayland College frosh.

Coach Borden Price's charges, who have dropped their first seven outings in non-conference action, will play their second conference game Monday night, also on the home court, against Arizona State, league defending champion. That game will also follow a prelim, pitting the West Texas yearlings and Frank Phillips JC.

In Arizona, the Buffs will be meeting a team they handled with ease last year. In fact, West Texas won only two conference starts in 1957-58 and both were over Arizona. At home, the Buffs blasted Arizona, 80-49, and tamed the Wildcats, 72-62, in Tucson, where it is often difficult to win.

The Wildcats, like the Buffs, have had their troubles this year, winning only two of 12 games.

Coach Price's boys have had a long rest. They haven't been in action since Dec. 16 when they lost to Centenary and will take on a national power, Oklahoma City U., in Oklahoma, tonight. The Chiefs, currently ranked 13th in the nation, will return to Buffalo Fieldhouse Feb. 3.

County Auditor Tells Year's Work

In a letter to District Judge E. E. Jordan, a copy of which was furnished the Randall County Commissioners Court, county auditor E. T. Cummings said he put in a total of 15.65 forty-hour weeks working on county books in 1958.

The letter said that Cummings spent 626 hours, an accountant from his private office spent 223 hours and a typist in his office worked 122 hours on county business. The three spent 23.775 forty-hour weeks on county work.

Cummings' letter said that he would have charged the county $7,400 for that work if it had been done on a contract basis. His salary as county auditor is $5,720.

In general, the office of county auditor is established for Texas counties when they reach a taxable valuation of $15 million or those which have a population of 35,000. The auditor is appointed by the district judge having jurisdiction in the county and his salary is set by the district judge.

Under the statutes, the auditor's salary cannot be more than that paid the tax assessor-collector. His term of office is for two years.

Monday Fire in Crain Farm Silo

Fourteen Canyon Volunteer firemen answered a call to the Cristler Crain farm south of town Monday afternoon.

They extinguished a fire in a trench silo, and were out of the station 45 minutes.

Liner To Judge Livestock Show

Ewell Liner, professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, will judge the Randall County Junior Livestock Show, to be held Jan. 23-24 at the City Barn.

Liner judged last year's show.

Judging will start at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, with a sale scheduled for the afternoon. Friday will be devoted to weighing in the stock.

A meeting of the membership committee of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association will be held at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the home of J. O. Parker, chairman. Memberships in the group, which sponsors the show, are still available for $5 from the committee.

First Sharing Check Received

A check for $21,273.32 from the State of Texas was presented to the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday as the first payment under the 50-50 right of way sharing contracts between the county and state.

The check represents the state's share of several of the right of way purchases on Highway 60 west. More money, in the vicinity of $60,000, is expected to be ready soon, highway right of way agent Pete Steiner told the commissioners.

Under the contracts, the county purchases the right of way at figures furnished by the highway department. The state then reimburses the county for half of the costs, if the right of way is purchased at the state figure. The state also shares in half the cost of right of way obtained by condemnation.

If the county pays more than the state figure for right of way, the state shares in only that part which is approved and the county must pay the rest.

During a Cold-Snowy Period, Cattlemen Stay Busy With Feeding, Watering and Moving

Cattlemen stay busy during cold weather, taking care of stock—feeding and making sure water is available. Saturday afternoon Bob Lindsey and Tom Martin moved cattle from grass pasture to wheat pasture on the Lindsey Ranch. Martin calls the cattle who straggled behind the pickup and the cattle move slowly to the wheat field where they are given a bonus ration of pellets. A calf stands by its mother, munching the green wheat that sticks up through the snow cover. Martin uses a broken sucker-rod to knock holes in the ice on a tank. The ice was about two inches thick.

Would It Be True Here?

Back before Christmas we noticed a small article in the daily press about a congressional district committee of the State Bar of Texas ruling that a county judge may not continue law practice while holding public office. The committee went so far as to rule that the judge cannot permit his name to remain with a law firm.

The committee was in the Ninth Congressional District and it affects the county judge of Fort Bend County, for sure. That county has a different setup than in Randall County.

There's a Jaybird Party in Fort Bend County that selects its nominees before the Democratic primary, and it has a policy that a county judge cannot serve but one four year term. We suppose the Jaybird Party is able to get its candidates elected and make its policy stick.

But the state bar committee is a different thing, altogether. It's the voice of the lawyer's union. To enforce its decisions, it has the power to bring suit to disbar a lawyer and fix him so he can't practice law before the courts.

And the committee says a county judge can't practice law while he's in the judge's office.

We wonder if that decision would hold true here. The committee said it based its decision on an interpretation of the State Bar's canon on ethics.

We've had a bad situation in Randall County. Our county judge practices law outside his official office, appearing any number of times for the defense of persons charged with law violations in the 47th District Court. We have felt that such an operation is not conducive to good government, and that it is not fair to the citizens of the county.

And, naturally, we wonder if the Ninth district ruling applies here, in the 18th district. And we wonder, further, if it applies to other elected officials. We hope that it will.

Your Beat

A newspaper story that has never been verified provides an interesting parallel to the way many Americans feel about their governments—local, state and national.

Late one night, the music critic of the New York Times was glancing through some proofs on the city editor's desk and came across the story of an architect who shot down the play-boy lover of his wife in a downtown hotel.

When he put down the proof, the city editor asked him what he thought about the story.

"Pretty good but it didn't happen quite that way," said the critic.

"What makes you say that?" asked the city editor.

"I was there," replied the critic.

"Then why in blue blazes didn't you write the story or call me?" asked the city editor.

"It wasn't my beat," the music critic answered.

Don't forget that poll taxes must be paid before January 31, and if you don't pay the tax, you don't vote. Government at all levels is your beat.

Leap Frog

The Russians shot the first satellite into the air. We rushed and rushed and sent up some little ones, and finally got a huge boxcar that talks into space. Then the Russians sent one up that looks as if it might orbit around the sun.

About the only thing left for us to do in that race is to send up a satellite that will sit and wait until 1986 when Halley's Comet returns, then play leap frog with it. Now that would be a feat to brag about.

Subsidies

Many citizens of this nation decry subsidies, and they usually pick on agriculture subsidies as the basic evil. We all might try on the following information from the Industrial News Review for size, and chew it around in our minds.

"The spread in cost between building merchant ships in this country and in other maritime nations is growing. That is presenting a problem to the U. S.-flag Merchant Marine, to our shipbuilders and to the government. Here, in brief, is the story.

"A big and modern Merchant Marine is essential to this nation's economy and to the national defense alike. That fact led to the passage of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, and Congress after Congress has reaffirmed the principle of that legislation. Under it the government provides a differential subsidy to shipbuilders (not ship operators) in order to help make up for the wide discrepancy in costs in our yards as compared with foreign yards.

"But the Act stipulates a 50 per cent ceiling on the government share in construction subsidy applied to new ships. It is now becoming apparent that this ceiling is too low.

"Business Week points out that it costs about $500 a ton to build a cargo vessel in Japan as against about twice that here. The big reason is labor costs. A Japanese shipyard worker averages 35 cents an hour, and wages in German, Dutch and British yards range from 60 to 90 cents. By contrast, the U. S. range is $2.50 to $2.90. Putting it another way, the cost of building ships in this country is split 50-50 between labor and materials. Abroad, the ratio runs about 85 per cent for materials and 15 per cent for labor."

This is not a brief in favor of agricultural subsidies, but it does show that one subsidy breeds another. It's easy to see that in time of war it is necessary to have lots of merchants ships, and it is necessary for shipyards to be ready and in operation to build ships when needed. But by the same token, it is probably more important for our agricultural industry to be in operation in time of war. We could get by without ships easier than we could without food.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

In Kansas City:

A sign in front of a theater which was showing "The Curse of Frankenstein:"

"It will haunt you forever."

I murmured, "Thanks for the warning" — and didn't go.

Another sign in Kansas City: "Mid-Summer Sale — Mixed Drinks at Reduced Prices."

A placard in a store window had this intriguing bit of information: "Jones Is Delightfully Air-Conditioned." The Jones referred to is a store, not a man.

The first cafeteria I entered, the piped-in music being heard at the moment was "San Antonio Rose" and, during my meal at another cafeteria, I was regaled with "That Good Old Baylor Line." (However, the Kansas Citians probably thought they were hearing "The Good Old Summer Time.")

In one cafeteria, the cashier doesn't use an adding machine; she just looks at the contents of the tray, adds the items in her head and hands you a ticket with the total.

Incidentally, one of these eating establishments has a sign on the stairs, "Use the Hand Rail." As it requires two hands to carry the tray, only an octopus could obey the admonition.

Four strangers (myself among the number) were waiting for a special ball-park bus to see the Kansas City Athletics play but found that the service was not provided that day so we shared a taxi. One of the three turned out to be from Texas, so we told Texas stories all the way out to the park, which no doubt made a big hit with the two Missourians.

The Texan was an Amarillo banker and I was tempted (but resisted) to ask if he was the Amarillo banker who, so an Amarilloan told me, was responsible for the Palo Duro canyon. You recall the story of course that an Amarillo banker dropped a dime down a prairie-dog hole and dug the canyon, trying to recover the dime.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

The following is a paid advertisement, written by former Canadian mayor Malouf Abraham and inserted in the Canadian Record:

It will soon be time for City Elections. It is very doubtful if any of our present officials will seek re-election. The present administration has done a very good job operating our City, Canadian's Biggest Business, with the handicap of part time management. The next two years will probably be Canadian's most crucial period. We have every indication of a considerable growth in the years ahead. It will take much planning and efficient management to spend the thousands of dollars that will be necessary to take care of a growing City.

Unless we give some real thought and study about our City, we will probably turn this business which is worth over a Million Dollars, has over 20 employees and takes in $200,000 a year, to three entirely new part time men who can kiss the most babies. Of course, there's nothing wrong with kissing babies but we need the very best management we can get to operate our Million Dollar Business.

Our best possible solution would be to vote the Council-Manager form of government for Canadian between no wand then. Under this plan, we would elect a Mayor and 5 councilmen. These men would hire the best qualified man they could to devote full time to managing the affairs of our City under their supervision. Having a full time Manager would relieve our officials of the little petty details that take so much of their time. After the first election, we would elect three men each year and would always have some men on the Commission who would be familiar with what has been going on. By having 6 men, we would have much broader representation, and not near so much demands on their time. We would pay these men from $10 to $25 per month which would eliminate us electing someone because they needed the money. We need the very best men we can get to handle our affairs and get politics out of City business.

There's really nothing complicated about this system. It's the very way our Schools operate now under a Superintendent and School Board. We have tried to get this form of government before but people have never fully understood how simple it is or else were misinformed. The idea that it would cost us more money to operate the City is entirely false. Good management and planning will save us thousands of dollars. Part time management and poor planning will cost us dearly.

We have a number of organizations in our town and here is an opportunity for each of us to do something for our Community. If every local organization will get informed about the Council-Manager form of government and work for it, we can easily get it across. My only interest is the same as yours should be—the future welfare of our town. Discuss it with your friends, mention it to your clubs and let's find out what people think about it. I would be glad to visit with you about it any time. I hope you realize how important our City is to you.

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: We heard an amazing statement the other day. Fellow said he had just learned that there are now more government farm experts than there are farmers. One informant said it is no joke, but is an actuality. Of course, the definition of farmer means those actually living on the farm, which would cut down on the number of Ochiltree farmers considerably. But this is still an amazing statement. How about it? Can someone enlighten us on this one?

Soil Conservation Board Offers Annual Report of Year's Operation

The program and plan for this district was completed and returned to the Board in June, 1956. The technical services of the Soil Conservation Service were made available at this time. The Board started taking cooperators in June, 1956, and has continued since that time.

The Board meets in the Randall County courthouse the first Tuesday of each month at 7 p. m.

The certificate of organization was received on November 25, 1954.

The supervisors of this district are as follows:

J. W. Spencer, chairman, subdivision 3; C. V. Conatser, vice chairman, subdivision 5; R. C. Sampson, Jr., secretary, subdivision 1; Frank Begert, Member, subdivision 2; and Marshall Rockwell, Jr., Member, subdivision 4.

The Board has held 12 regular meetings, with an average attendance of approximately 90 per cent, and has had six called meetings.

The annual report was published in The Canyon News.

In conjunction with the Randall County Junior Livestock Association, the district sponsored a grass judging contest at the county show. Awards were given to the top three contestants by the Randall County Junior Livestock Association.

The district supervisors, with agricultural agencies in the district, sponsored two tours during the year; one in February when the grass was being seeded to see the equipment in operation, and one in late summer to see the success of the seedings. Exceptional success was reported by most operators who followed the district recommendations. The successful program in District 147 is being adapted by surrounding areas to improve their seeding work.

The board of supervisors worked closely with all agricultural agencies in setting up a program for the Conservation Reserve section of the Soil Bank program. The board and Soil Conservation Service technicians gave recommendations on temporary cover crops and adapted grasses to use.

Seeding rates, based on pure live seed, and planting dates recommended were adopted in the Conservation Reserve handbook. Most of the seeding was done with district owned grass drills. District owned sprayers were used to protect new grass seedings from grasshoppers and to control weeds.

Most of the churches in Canyon observed Soil Stewardship services, with an estimated attendance of about 2,000 people.

Several soil and water conservation ads, sponsored by local merchants, have been printed by the local paper.

The Canyon News has cooperated in printing a regular weekly news column to help inform the public about the district program and conservation farming. There have been 50 news columns on soil and water conservation.

Four of the board members and their families attended a social and barbecue at Buffalo Lake during the summer. Also present were invited guests, SCS technicians, the game warden, and their families.

There are about 860 land owners in the district with about 546,460 acres of agricultural land and a total of 606,760 acres. At the present time we have 168 district cooperators with 156,308 acres of land under agreement. This year the district obtained 64 agreements, 48 of which were progressive and 16 were complete plans.

This is the first time this district has sponsored participation in the Fort Worth Press Essay Contest, and students from Canyon High School won second, third, and ninth places.

One hundred and twenty-one cooperators were serviced at least once, and some were serviced more than once. One hundred and fourteen cooperators applied at least one practice during the year.

During the year, cooperators of this district have completed the following practices on their farms:

Contour farming	1,164 acres
Cover cropping	676 acres
Crop residue utilization	9,316 a.
Rotation hay and pasture	160 a.
Stubble mulching	4,328 acres
Deferred grazing	5,000 acres
Fertilizing aftermath	1,500 acres
Proper use	9,300 acres
Diversion construction	1 mile
Improved water application	4,000 acres
Laterals	10.5 miles
Ponds	5 no.
Terraces	1.5 miles
Range seeding	2,566 acres
Waterways	3.83 acres

Soil Conservation District No. 147 has equipment to rent to district cooperators and others to do a more efficient conservation job. A 12-foot land leveler, two 10-foot grass drills, a 2-yard wheel scraper, inter-row legume seeder, two sprayers—one equipped for weed control and one for insect spraying—one Easyflow 13-foot fertilizer applicator, and 15-foot shredder mower, and one 5-foot shredder mower. The district also purchased a 35 mm camera to make colored slides for educational work.

The board of supervisors is now considering the purchase of sweep tillage equipment for stubble mulching and also some heavy dirt moving equipment.

There is no watershed of flood prevention work in the district.

The Soil Conservation Service and the State Extension Service are assisting the board, and other agencies have been invited to attend the board meetings. The local game warden and vocational agriculture teacher have attended meetings this year.

The district is still faced with the problems of management of irrigation water, terrace construction on dry land, and wind erosion. The people need to have a better understanding of soil conservation districts and their purposes.

It is believed that at this time the district has enough technical and educational help.

A good crop was produced by most farmers this year. Rainfall was normal again this year.

The board is assisting in the Great Plains Conservation Program and thus far have four contracts in operation in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson and Marcy visited Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson of Groom and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Estlack of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Oberst Jr. and family and E. A. Oberst Sr. were guests in the William Wimberley home recently.

Eating Christmas dinner with Mrs. Serena Bryan and Tom Rogers were Mr. and Mrs. Wylie James and Neil. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Myers called in the afternoon.

A calendar is a thing. We take for granted its merciless marking off of time — into days, weeks and months.

Once a year, however, when the old year bows out and the new one comes in, it gets a more searching examination. Only then do we find the little nuggets of advice, aid, or wisdom that some obscure calendar printer thought worthy of social note.

Few calendars just quit when they reach December 31. Even those which show no recognition of the momentous fact that a year is ending will carry a reminder: "Call for XYZ-123 desk pad when refilling this holder." "Buy Brown Bantams in 1959." Or they offer the courtesy of a preview into January.

We find a real surprise in one that has stood on our desk all through 1958. An ordinary cardboard-back pad advertising an insurance firm, it is arranged by weeks and carries the usual last-month-this-month-next at the top of each page. There is writing space for reminders by each day date, with moon changes, holidays and the day of the year. But hidden away behind the page for Dec. 28-to-Jan. 3, what a store of knowledge it holds! Weights and measures; banking tables; a ready-reference calendar from 1753 to 1999; social security benefits; the population of the United States; how to remove stains; what to do about poisoning; what time it is in Berlin and Bombay when it's 12 noon in Washington, D. C.

An almanac of useful information has been at our finger tips throughout 1958. It comes to light a little late. But still we appreciate it. These bonus pages seem to say, even a calendar may pause and look back over the centuries, as Time's unfailing computer ups the ante by one figure this day.

TOO MUCH, TOO LATE

A great many people spend so much time mapping out a career that they have no time left to carry out their plans.

'World of Ideas' Slated by JWBC

"World of Ideas," a home decorating travelogue, will be shown at 2:45 p. m. Friday in the film room of the West Texas State College Library for members of the Junior Woman's Book Club.

Mrs. Bob Bellah will read the commentary on the 55 color slides in this program, which includes 35 room settings.

The program is divided into four parts showing how the Ancient customs, architecture and colors of Denmark, Spain, Austria and several Asian countries have been translated into American fabrics and furnishings.

The color slides will also show how fabric design is created. For instance—Temple Bells from Bangkok, antique ornaments from Vienna, lacy grill work from Madrid, contemporary ceramics from Copenhagen become the motifs for gossomer sheer printed fabrics, heavy antique satins, taffetas and sturdy upholstery fabrics.

Mr. and Mrs. Iverson Leake and family attended a Caraway family dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caraway of Dawn.

The Jerry LaGrone family visited in the A. J. Emmons home in Clarendon recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Camal Dakil were guests at a family gathering in the Mack Saied home in Wellington.

Russell-Hungate Vows Exchanged In Double Ring Ceremony at Claude

The First Methodist Church of Claude was the scene Dec. 28 of the wedding of Kay Janelle Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley B. Russell of Claude, and Larry Lynn Hungate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Hungate, Canyon.

The Rev. C. C. Hardaway, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladiolus and palm leaves.

Mrs. Glen Wilkins, organist, presented nuptial music and accompanied Nancye Coffee, cousin of the bride and soloist, who sang "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

As the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, she presented her mother with a long stemmed white rose from her bouquet, repeating the gesture to the bridegroom's mother as she left the altar. The bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace and moonglow satin. The skirt was floor length and extended into a chapel train, and the fitted bodice was styled along princess lines with a V neckline. Her veil of scalloped French illusion was attached to a queen's crown showered with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Earl F. Whitten, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of gold velveteen styled along princess lines. She carried a white satin muff adorned with an arrangement of gold carnations. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kent Dunnam, Canyon, and Carol Sweny, Sunray, college roommates of the bride. They wore gold velveteen dresses identically styled to that of the honor attendant. All wore headpieces of gold tulle.

Harry Hungate was his son's best man, and groomsmen were Earl F. Whitten, Amarillo, and Al R. Myers, Canyon. Norris and Bobby Samuelson, both of Canyon, were ushers. Paula Beck of Lefors, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Mrs. Gayle Bean of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, registered the guests .

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony with Anna Lou Firestone of Dalhart, Lugenia Hubbard of Canyon, and Karen Wade of Monahans, cousin of the bride, assisting. The serving table was laid with a white lace cloth over gold and was centered with the bride's bouquet surrounded by white and gold wedding bells.

Mrs. Russell, mother of the bride, wore a sky blue lace dress, with winter white accessories. Her corsage was of feathered white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Hungate, wore a pink lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of feathered white carnations.

For her wedding trip to the Texas Gulf coast, the bride traveled in an imported wool dress of sapphire blue. Her hat was of a complimentary color, and she wore a corsage from the bridal bouquet.

After January 1, the couple wlil make their home at 3406-A West 15th, Amarillo.

The bride, a graduate of Claude High School, will receive her B.S. degree from West Texas State College in January. She has accepted a position in the Amarillo Public School System. In college she has been a member of Alpha Chi, national honor society, Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Buffalo Gals, campus service organization, Gamma Theta Upsilon, national geography fraternity, and the Wesley Foundation. Her name is listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

The bridegroom is a graduate of Canyon High School and is a senior geography major at WT, where he is a member of Gamma Theta Upsilon and the Wesley Foundation. He has also been a member of the Buffalo Band. At present, he is serving as an assistant instructor in the geography department.

A rehearsal dinner was given Dec. 27 by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Hungate, in Fellowship Hall of the church. Thirty guests were present.

Joseph A. Hill Chapel Is Scene Of Moreman-Mayfield Wedding

Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College was the scene of the marriage of Mary Rushing Moreman, daughter of Mrs. Lula Rushing Moreman of Canyon and Tucson, Ariz., and C. E. Moreman of Anderson, Mo., and Kenneth Eugene Mayfield, of Tucson, Ariz., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Mayfield of Floydada.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. L. A. Doyle of Portales, N. M., at 4 p. m. Dec. 21.

Traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Glenn Dowlen of Canyon, who also accompanied Mrs. R. E. Galightly of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, when she sang, "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee." While the couple was kneeleng at the altar, Elo Merton Myers Jr. of Canyon, cousin of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

The altar was flanked with seven branch candelabra and miniature Christmas trees decorated with Nobel fir and accents of red and green ornaments. Arrangements of red carnations and white stock placed on the altar completed the floral decor.

Attendants to the bride, given in marriage by her father, were Mrs. Andy Moreman of Bentonville, Ark., sister-in-law of the bride, who was matron of honor, and Jean Ruley of Lake Charles, La., and Barbara Kay Myers of Canyon, cousin of the bride, who were bridesmaids. Patricia and Kenneth Lee Moreman of Bentonville, Ark., niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer.

The attendants, who wore gowns of green and red taffeta, carried white velvet muffs accented with corsages of red carnations, silver bells and leaves.

The bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie and Chantilly lace which extended into a chapel length train, made by her mother. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom, and carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis, centered with a white orchid on a white Bible, a gift of her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Myers of Canyon. For something old she wore a gold band ring of her grandfather, S. L. Rushing, and carried a white linen handkerchief of the grandmother of the groom.

Sidney Muse of Amarillo was best man, and the groomsmen, who also ushered, were Hoyt Kenmore of Willcox, Ariz., and Bobbie McGurie of Floydada.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party and guests were feted with a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Myers. The bride's table was centered with a silver candelabra holding white tapers set on red moline, and streamers ending with red carnations. A tiered wedding cake was served with coffee and hot wassail.

Assisting at the table were Mrs. F. A. Pierce, aunt of the bride; Fani Kastopoulou of Athens, Greece, and Tucson; Gladys Armstrong, Elizabeth Cox and Mildred Carter, all of Canyon; Mrs. Katherine Cardwell, Bertha Patton and Cleo Haynes of Lubbock.

A buffet supper for the wedding party and guests was served in the F. A. Pierce home after the reception.

Following the reception, the couple left for Santa Fe and surrounding territory. Mrs. Mayfield traveled in a willow green wool ensemble with mink collar and hat made by her mother. She wore alligator shoes and carried an alligator purse. Her corsage was the white orchid she carried in the wedding.

The couple will be at home in Tucson, where Mrs. Mayfield is on the nutritional research laboratory staff of the University of Arizona. Mr. Mayfield is an instructor and technician at Davis Monthan Air Force Base.

Honoring the bride, a punch party was given Dec. 19 by her aunt, Mrs. F. A. Pierce, and Mrs. Cecil Simms in the Simms home in Canyon. Assisting with the serving were Katy McCluny, Elizabeth Cox, Gladys Armstrong, Mildred Carter, Barbara Kay Myers, Mrs. L. L. Jones and Mrs. Earline Moreman.

The rehearsal dinner was served to 26 guests Dec. 20 in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jones. The three course dinner was served by girls from the homemaking department of Canyon High School, supervised by Mrs. Jessie Parker, mother of Mrs. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harrison spent Christmas in the Ray D. Brown home in the Allison community.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dodson of Vigo Park visited their daughter, Mrs. Clifford Abbott, and her family Christmas.

Mrs. J. W. Wesley, who has been ill, was taken to the home of relatives in Brownfield.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Congress in 1959

The First Session of the 86th Congress bids fair to be one of the most interesting and active sessions of Congress in the history of this nation. The chances are that it will start off with a decided "bang."

At this reading, it would be my prediction that the first pop out of the box will come a number one controversial issue that could well shake political roots clear across the nation. The controversial issue will be whether or not to receive and swear in a new Member duly certified by the State of Arkansas as having been elected.

The newspapers here have reported that objection will be made to the seating of this Member and that the matter will be put to a vote by the House of Representatives. The result of that vote will determine whether or not this Member must stand aside until the House has thoroughly investigated the election at which he was elected.

No doubt efforts will be made between now and the opening of the Congress to compromise the situation and avoid the head-on conflict that would result from such parliamentary procedure.

Whether or not these efforts are successful will depend on the willingness of the self-designated liberal group to yield on the point. The fact is that they have the votes to prevent the seating of the Member in question, but may not want to display or test their strength on this particular issue.

There will undoubtedly be some deep wounds resulting from the issue regardless of what happens; wounds that may last for many years.

It presently appears that the first order of business after the Members are sworn in will be the attempt on the part of the self-styled liberal group to throttle the power of the Rules Committee. The Rules Committee is a screening committee through which most all legislation must pass before being presented to the entire House of Representatives.

It serves a most important purpose in providing an orderly flow of proper legislation before the Congress. It serves as a traffic cop to prevent the flooding of the House with bills from the numerous committees.

It constitutes a safety valve on the type of legislation to come before the Congress, and provides an opportunity for legislative bills that have been approved by the several committees to be carefully weighed with reference to the time for the presentation of such bills, whether or not the same are necessary, and whether or not the bills may be advisable when viewed in the light of the fiscal condition or fiscal policy of the government.

The reason that the self-styled liberal group wants to throttle the power of the Rules Committee is because there are a number of bills that come before the Congress each year that these Members would like to bring before the entire House for extended debate or for immediate passage if the mood of the House at that particular time so demands.

Should this power of the Rules Committee be destroyed, it is obvious that the much needed cooling-off period so necessary in the careful scrutiny of bills that are to become the law of this land would be likewise destroyed. This would cause chaos and confusion and could very well operate to the detriment of the entire country.

The Congress tried this method a few years back, and found out that it would not work, and that it should be discarded. The first vote that I cast when I came to Congress was a vote to restore to the Rules Committee the power to exercise jurisdiction over the legislation to come before the Congress.

It is my sincere hope that whatever attempt is made to do away with the power of the Rules Committee will fail, and it is my studied opinion that such will be the fate of the attempt by this group should it be tried in this session of Congress.

When these two matters have been disposed of, the Congress will then begin to consider a mass of legislative proposals that may well provide the backdrop to the most hectic session in many years.

Mrs. Warwick Finds Rose Parade Uses More Orchids Than Roses

Mrs. Clyde Warwick, who returned Monday from a trip to California where she saw the Rose Bowl Parade, may be asking herself, "Why do they call it the Rose Parade?"

Although most of the 63 floats in the 70th annual New Year's day floral spectacle used roses, there were more orchids used than roses. At least that is Mrs. Warwick's impression.

In speaking of the floats, Mrs. Warwick said, "It is impossible to describe this magnificent sight."

One float that Mrs. Warwick remembered as outstanding was the sweepstakes prize winner, entered by Glendale, Calif. It pictured a fairyland, ruled over by a fantasy queen in a sedan-chair of roses, beneath a canopy of 10,000 strung orchids, 6,000 roses and white narcissus.

A float from San Antonio was 135 feet long, biggest of the parade. Designed as a locomotive and seven cars, it was completely covered with flowers, even the wheels, which did not touch the ground. The actual wheels were hidden.

"The floats were so completely covered with flowers that you could not see the drivers or any of the framework," Mrs. Warwick said.

Another striking float featured a stairway made of vanda orchids which led to a pool of thousands of vanda orchids, centered by a fountain of paper-white narcissus. A large white peacock, also of narcissus, stood by the pool.

A stained glass window done in orchids was used on the Florists Telegraph Delivery Service float, which depicted a wedding. The aisle carpet was made of solid pink camelias.

But since it was the Rose Parade, thousands of roses were used. Mrs. Warwick's particular favorite was a float using 5,000 yellow roses and chrysanthemums. The Rose Queen and her court were seated amidst 10,000 roses.

"I was told that the girls were often seated on electric blankets, particularly on cold days, and used electric heating pads to keep their hands warm, but I couldn't see the pads," said Mrs. Warwick, who was visiting Mamie Conner Bradford, daughter of the founders of Canyon.

Mrs. Warwick also admired the 235 beautiful horses used in the five mile long parade. The horses and their trappings were valued at $3,500,000.

A troop of 32 Medinah Black horses from Chicago, led by one white horse, performed in each block of the parade. The horses, said to be among the best trained in the world, formed squares, circles and different figures in perfect step.

Twenty-one bands were entered in the parade, which had the theme of "Adventures in Flowers." Some of the bands from other states were the Iowa Scottish Highlanders, the Iowa State University, the Phoenix Indian School Band of Phoenix, Ariz., the Cliffton High School Mustang Band of East Patterson, N. J., and the Oconomowoc American Legion Band of Oconomowoc, Wisc.

What is Mrs. Warwick's impression of the parade?

"It is said to be the most colorful and beautiful spectacle in the world, and I believe it."

Theme for the meeting was "Inspiration in Literature." Mrs. Dan Sanders, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Moore interpreted the tragedies of the aftermath of the Nazi youth movement as portrayed in the play, whose title was Hitler's theme song.

Money doesn't talk today. It just goes without saying.

Drama Workshop Opens Saturday

A workshop on all phases of drama production for high school teachers and students and others interested in the theatre will open here at West Texas State College Saturday.

Sponsored by the Texas Speech Association and the WT speech department, the workshop has been arranged by Buffalo Masquers, campus dramatics organization. Most sessions are to be in the Branding Iron Theatre.

Registration at the BIT from 10 a. m. until noon, and a lunch and reception in the Blue Room of the cafeteria will open the program. A welcome will be given by Dr. Crannell Tolliver, president of the Texas Speech Association, and Robert L. Antrim, sponsor of Buffalo Masquers, will explain the workshop.

A general meeting will open at 1 p. m., and at 1:30 a discussion will be given on selecting plays and contest plays from the director's viewpoint, by Hobart McDonald of White Deer, and the judge's viewpoint by William A. Moore, WT associate professor.

West Texas State students, who are members of Buffalo Masquers, will discuss other aspects of the atre. These include set construction, by Scott Glenn of Borger and J. W. Brannon of Canyon; paint and painting, by Leon Stephens of Dumas and Jimmy Haiduk of White Deer; costumes by Penny Cox of Amarillo and Janet Benefield of Plainview; properties, by Janice Dunnam of Lefors and David O'Keefe of Amarillo; make-up by Elizabeth Taylor of Amarillo and Mary Lee Owens of Amarillo; and publicity, by Billy Hodgson of Friona, Charlene Fletcher of Pecos, and Barbara Lennon of Dodson.

Concluding the program at 5 p. m. will be presentation of one or more one-act plays prepared by Buffalo Masquers.

There's the Iron Curtain, the Bamboo Curtain and what might be called the "Oaken Curtain" — those heavy oak doors in the State Capitol and elsewhere that sometimes swing shut when public officials are transacting public business.

Several newspaper organizations are forging a battering ram with which they'll make a run at the "Oaken Curtain" during the next legislative session.

Three measures designed to prevent concealment of public information will be offered. Briefly, here's what the bills would do:

No. 1. Make open to the public at all times all official meetings of all city councils, commissioners courts, legislative committees and state boards, commissions and agencies. Any official found in violation would be liable to a $100 to $1,000 fine and removal from office, and the action taken in secret would be invalid.

No. 2. Make any official who prevents or refuses to permit inspection of a public record liable to a $100 to $500 fine and removal from office.

(Neither of the above measures would apply in any meeting or record not open to the public under present laws.)

No. 3. Make any person who takes and carries away a public record "with intent to destroy, suppress, alter or conceal" liable to a three to seven-year prison sentence.

All three measures are being sponsored by the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, and have been endorsed by the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi, a professional newsmen's organization.

All the bills, said Ed Wishcamper of Abilene, APME's freedom of information chairman, are based on the premise "that the public is entitled to know what goes on in the government divisions which levy and spend taxes and whose decisions affect the lives of the people."

Or, from another viewpoint, if it's truly "government of the people, by the people and for the people," there's seldom need to hide it from the people.

Who Meets Secretly

Insofar as Austin is concerned, the most likely targets for freedom of information proposal No. 1 are the Legislative Budget Board and the State Board of Health.

The Budget Board, a joint panel of senators and house members, meets in advance of sessions to thrash out recommendations on how much money to appropriate where. Billions in public money are involved.

Shut-out Capitol pressmen contend the public ought to be in on these decisions.

But Budget Board members point out that it's terribly touchy business at this point and that premature reporting would be like taking the lid off a box of bees. They can't speak frankly, they say, and come to an understanding with reporters present. And besides, the story goes, the Budget Board's report will be made public when it is submitted to the Legislature.

State Board of Health has excluded reporters from sessions in which it decides the allocation of millions in federal hospital-building funds. The Health Board, too, contends that it eventually makes its decisions public. Newsmen complain that the reports are slow in coming in and hard to get.

State Board of Insurance was petitioned by Sigma Delta Chi's Austin Chapter to keep its public records and meetings open. This Board promptly replied that it had not and would not attempt to conceal any official acts or hearings.

Some official activities are, by law, conducted in private. Senate meets in executive session when deciding whether to confirm appointments by the governor. Also the Senate committee on nominations. In these sessions discussion involves people — the appointees — in a very personal way. Newsmen recognize this problem.

Also, the deliberations of both grand juries and petit juries are conducted in legal privacy since the reputation of innocent, as well as guilty, persons are involved.

None of these legally confidential activities would be affected by the freedom of information measures.

Going "First Class"

Reconstruction was over, but fence-cutting was causing a lot of trouble in West Texas in 1883.

That was also the year the Legislature finally got around to acting under seven-year-old Constitutional instructions to "as soon as practicable, establish, organize and provide for the maintenance, support and direction of a university of the first class."

At the conclusion of its 75th anniversary celebration, a special committee of 75 made a report on its year-long study of progress. It's conclusion: the University "stands on the threshold of true greatness, "but is not yet really "first class."

Committee labeled some departments and schools "superior," most just "satisfactory." It recommended more money for research, money to attract professors of world-wide renown, money to hold the talented young professors. It recommended eliminating the "dead weight" of inferior faculty members.

Budget Blues

Texas General Revenue Fund, like many a personal account, is going to be badly in arrears by the first of the year.

Deficit is expected to be about $40,000,000 by the time the Legislature meets Jan. 13.

General Revenue began the fiscal year in September with about $13,000,000 on hand. In the months since expenses have consumed this and put the state in the hole at the rate of about $13,000,000 a month.

State employees have been able to continue cashing their checks only because banks agreed to hold them until the State Treasury gets money to make them good.

First headache facing the lawmakers will be finding money to pay their own salaries, secretaries, expenses, etc. Possibilities are deficit financing or borrowing from special funds.

Unless a man is doing all he can he is doing less than he should.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

Guidance Session Set for Chapel

A Pre-Cana Conference is being held at West Texas State College this week. Sponsored by the Newman Club, the two remaining guidance conferences will be held at 7:30 tonight and tomorrow night in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel at the college.

The series began last night.

Speaker for the conferences will be Friar Fidelis Albrecht, a Franciscan priest from San Angelo. Father Fidelis has conducted many such Cana and Pre-Cana conferences and has spoken to single adults and married couples in more than 20 Panhandle and South Plains towns and communities.

Each evening the lecture will be followed by a discussion period.

Father James Comiskey of St. Ann's Church in Canyon and Newman Club officers are in charge of arrangements.

The conferences derive their title from the fact that Christ worked his first public miracle at a marriage feast in the town of Cana. Topics to be discussed are marriage, courtship, the family, love, engagements and other subjects related to marriage.
